CONTEXT SUMMARY

Fundamentally, the gospel is the revelation of who God is, who we are, and how we can be reconciled to Him. Yet in an American dream where self reigns as king (or queen), we have a dangerous tendency to misunderstand, minimize, and even manipulate the gospel in order to accommodate our assumptions and our desires. As a result, we desperately need to explore how much of our understanding of the gospel is American and how much is biblical. In the process we need to examine whether we have misconstrued a proper response to the gospel and maybe even missed the primary reward of the gospel, which is God Himself.
